

From the Album 'Live At The BBC'

Verse 2

The diagram is a guitar fretboard layout for the song "The Sound of Silence" by Simon and Garfunkel. It shows the fretboard from the 1st to the 12th fret, with six strings (Treble and Bass). The layout is divided into 13 sections, each labeled with a letter in a box (A through M) and a description of the section. The sections are: Verse 1, Chorus, Verse 2, Chorus, Verse 3, Chorus, Guitar Solo, Chorus, Verse 4, Chorus, Verse 5, Chorus, Verse 6, Chorus, and a final Chorus. Each section contains specific fret numbers and chord names (A, D, E) written above the staff. The diagram is a black and white line drawing with a grid of frets and strings.
